Dear ISWI Participant:

The "ISWI Logo Contest" (which was announced in ISWI Newsletter Vol. 1, No. 3 and Vol. 2, No. 1) has a winning design. It was selected by the "ISWI Logo Selection Committee" -- consisting of Prof. Yumoto of Japan, Dr Amory of France, Dr Davila of NASA, and Dr Thompson of NASA. There were 23 logo design entries from 10 persons/groups.

And:

The winning design comes from Dr Ben Cotts and his colleagues at Stanford University, California, USA.

The winning logo design is attached as a 6.5 MB pdf (ISWI_Logo.pdf). It is in English.

Also available are versions of it without text (ISWI_Logo_noText1.pdf and ISWI_Logo_noText2.pdf). These can be easily modified with the aid of Adobe Illustrator to include text of your language (Arabic, Chinese, or whatever). You can then use your modified logo inside your country (for your national ISWI website, publications, etc.).

Because of the size of the files, the "no text" versions will be sent out in the next two issues of the ISWI Newsletter.

The available ISWI logo versions are summarized in "summary of the 3 logos" 1.0 MB pdf, one page, which is attached as a second file.

Iswi-fully yours,
George Maeda
The Editor.
